Top 5 Reasons to Train with Us

Why should you consider joining us for one of our factory or traveling roadshow training sessions?

1. Hands-on learning focused on 80% of the most common issues seen in the field
2. Gain competence and confidence
3. It's free (minus travel expenses)
4. Your company saves money because of your knowledge and efficiency (great return on investment)
5. Free food and Boon Edam swag!

"You were able to take the complicated drives and controls and make them simple for us guys who don't work with them every day. I came away from this training seminar confident I will be able to repair most things thrown in my direction. Keep up the good work."

What Happens at a Training Session?

Whether you attend a training session at our factory in Lillington, NC or in a city local to you (see dates on the back page of this flyer), you can expect to the following instruction:

- Classroom-style instruction on installation, operation & service
- A training binder and flash drive with all appropriate materials
- Hands-on experience building an actual door and/or turnstile
- Morning and afternoon snacks, and a catered lunch
- A certificate of completion
- The confidence to get out in the field and give your customers an excellent experience

Managers: It is a big decision to pull your technicians out of the field for a one or two day training session, but an educated technician is an efficient technician - and one you'll get more ROI out of. Instead of lingering on a jobsite scratching their heads, your technicians will be on to the next job and making more money.
